I've fished this lake in a few bass tournaments and most anglers will tell you this is in their top three because there are huge largemouth and smallmouth bass in this lake! Try the areas marked in blue. I have done well drop shooting with plastics over deeper water as well. The perch are all over this lake. Fish the red areas with crawler chunks and you'll see what I mean. There is lots of sorting involved but you can find a few 10-12 inchers too. There are lots of small bluegills but it's a big lake so finding the bigger panfish is tricky. The pike can grow big as they have lots of perch and smelt to feed on. This is a very popular lake to ice fish and pike is definitely a sought after fish.

The lake trout also get big in this lake. Some folks like to troll for them but I really like jigging for the lakers. Try the areas marked in yellow. You'll see them on the graph. I use a 3/4 oz jighead with a five inch split tail white plastic. I also put together a drop shot rig for lakers as well that works. The meat is bright orange and they fight hard. The DNR plants them every year so if you've got a calm day, I suggest jigging for lake trout. If it doesn't pan out, switch up and go for the perch.
